Industry Overview:

The Indian Media and Entertainment Industry had grown at a flat rate of 11.7 percent in 2014 as against 11.8 percent in 2013, and touched INR 1026 billion in 2014. A segment wise growth in last five years and projection upto 2019 is presented in the table below (Source: FICCI-KPMG Indian Media and Entertainment Industry Report 2015). Television remained in top of the list in terms of revenue, however in terms of growth percentage, digital advertising was in number one position.

Total advertising spend across media was INR 414 billion in 2014 contributing to 40 percent of the industry revenue. The television advertising revenue in 2014 was INR 154.9 billion which has grown at 14.0 percent over 2013 and is projected to reach INR 299.1 billion by 2019 with a compounded annual growth rate (CAGR) of 14.1 percent. The digital advertising for 2014 was INR 43.5 billion with a growth of 44.5 percent over 2013, and is projected to reach INR 162.5 billion by 2019 with CAGR of 30.2 percent. (Source: FICCI-KPMG Indian Media and Entertainment Industry Report 2015)

It was both a challenging and landmark year for the television industry. Telecom Regulatory Authority of India had passed a regulation restricting advertisements to 12 minutes per hour, which had affected the advertising revenue, specifically for smaller channels and producers who operate on sponsorship model. It also saw the formation of the viewership measurement system by Broadcast Audience Research Council (BARC). BARC is expected to deliver superior viewership data on account of more relevant classification parameters, tracking of substantially higher viewership universe including rural households, as well as higher quality of data monitoring.

Content production:

The size of Indian TV content production industry is ~INR30 billion, excluding news, animation and sports. Hindi language content takes 2/3rd of the market, leaving the rest for all regional languages, says the FICCI-KPMG Indian Media and Entertainment Industry Report 2015.

Broadcasters are experimenting with new content and marketing strategies, one such emerging trend is high-budget finite fiction shows, which is expected to propel revenue growth for producers. Apart from traditional GECs now other channels are also focusing on scripted shows to attract audiences, driving growth for content producers. With the growth of Over-the-top (OTT) video platforms and increase in digital advertising spending, producers are trying to own or co-own IP rights for contents to get benefitted from further monetising. OTT video platforms are also experimenting with original programming, which could be the next big growth driver for content producers.

Company Overview:

The Company and its subsidiary are primarily into television content production, majorly operating in southern regional languages.

Risks and concerns

The company depends on relationships with broadcasting channels, mainly the SUN TV Network, marketing agencies and other industry participants to produce and exploit our television content. Any disputes with them could have a material adverse effect on it's ability or willingness to produce and telecast the programs.

Company generates revenues from sale of advertising spots during telecast of it's program, which by large depend on popularity of the program. Any failure to maintain the viewership could harm business or prevent from growing, which could have a material adverse effect on the business prospects, financial condition and results of operations. The viewership rating may also dependant on measurement methodologies which is an external factor to the company.

The company's business depends in part on the adequacy, enforceability and maintenance of intellectual property rights in the entertainment products and services. Piracy of the Company's content, products and intellectual property could result in a reduction of the revenues that the Company receives from the legitimate sale, licensing and distribution of its content and products. The Company devotes substantial efforts to protecting its content, products and intellectual property, but there can be no assurance that the Company's efforts to enforce its rights and combat piracy will be successful.

The Company derives substantial revenues from the sale of advertising spots, and a decrease in advertising expenditures overall or reduced demand for the Company's offerings could lead to a reduction. Declines in consumer spending due to weak economic conditions could also indirectly negatively impact the Company's advertising revenues by causing downward pricing pressure on advertising because advertisers may not perceive as much value from advertising if consumers are purchasing fewer of their products or services.

The Company's businesses are subject to a variety of laws and regulations. The Company could incur substantial costs to comply with new laws, regulations or policies or substantial penalties or other liabilities if it fails to comply with them. In addition, if there are changes in laws that provide protections that the Company relies on in conducting its business, it would subject the Company to greater risk of liability and could increase its costs of compliance.
